

Bernstein Conference

on Computational Neuroscience

2021 online

Profile

Each year the Bernstein Network invites the international computational neuroscience community to the annual Bernstein Conference for intensive scientific exchange. It has established itself as one of the most renowned conferences worldwide in this field, attracting students, postdocs and PIs from around the world to meet and discuss new scientific discoveries.

In 2021, the conference will be held entirely online.

The online Bernstein Conference 2021 will take place on Hopin. This all-in-one platform comes along with multiple rooms, where attendees can move in and out during the event and find various ways to meet, chat, interact and network.

Join the Bernstein Conference!

Find ideal conditions to present your company or organization to our 1500+ attendees working in both experimental and theoretical neuroscience. Profit from the interdisciplinary background of our audience to

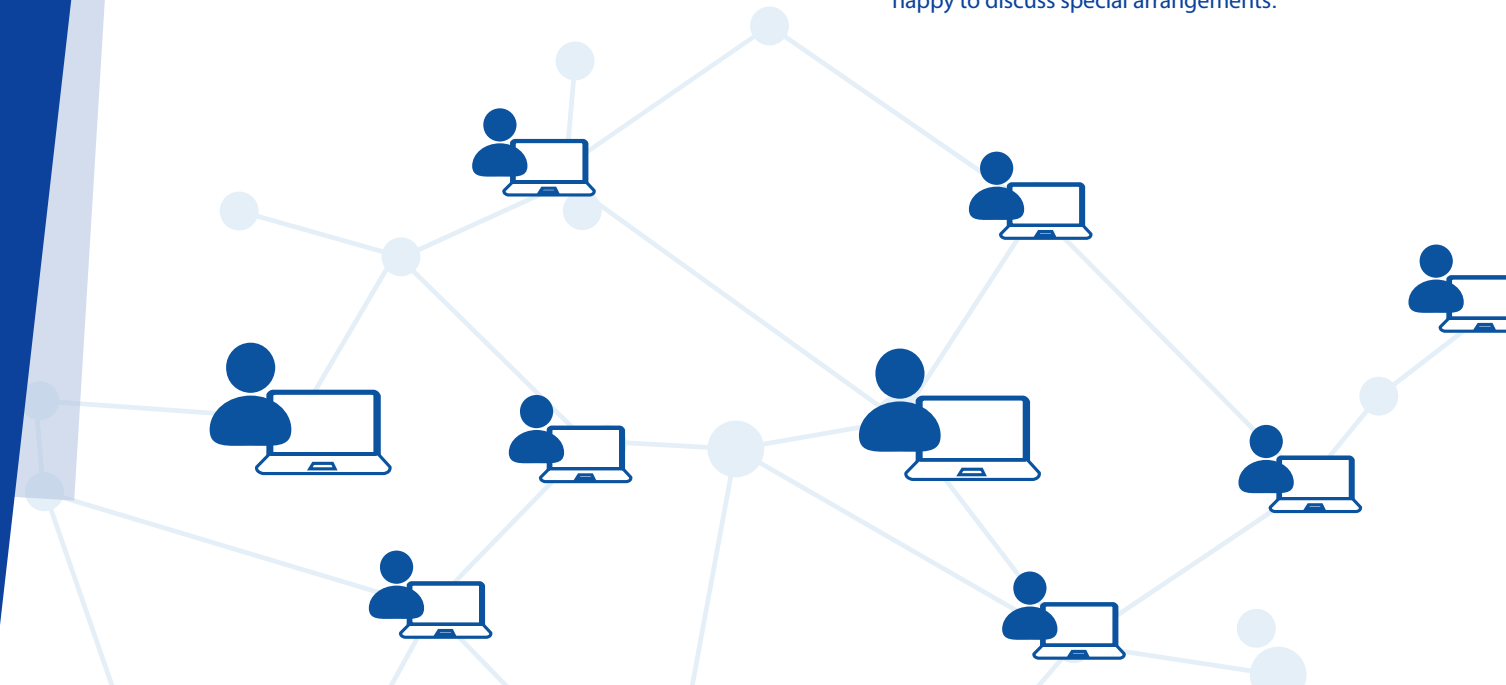

- showcase your products
- network with the scientific community
- establish successful liaisons with basic and applied research

We offer various sponsoring opportunities and are happy to discuss special arrangements.
